Adviser for State Department Says Foreign Policy Realistic

U. S. Aids Program Called Successful

"United States policy toward the underdeveloped countries of the non-Communist world has been clear and consistent since the end of World War II," an audience of about 500 attending the second night of an "America and the World Community" lecture series heard Friday night.

Speaking in the Lawrence University Chapel, James McCrory, chief of public affairs, U.S. Agency for International Development (AID), said "with all our successes, there is no reason to assume that the patient, persistent building of a world fit to live in is beyond our resources or our ingenuity." McCrory, a Marquette University graduate and a former Milwaukee newspaperman, was chief propaganda writer for "The Voice of the U.N. Command" in Tokyo during the Korean War, and later received a Ford Foundation fellowship for South Asian studies and field research for economic development in India.

Policy Is Bipartisan
He said "United States policy towards the underdeveloped countries has been followed on a bipartisan basis under Presidents Truman, Eisenhower, Kennedy and Johnson."

"We seek to help the underdeveloped countries establish themselves as independent, self-supporting nations, able to achieve economic and social progress through free institutions," he said.

"In pursuit of this policy we

Eastern Europe Expert Notes Changes Since Yalta Conference

BY DICK LYNEIS
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

American foreign policy in its relations with the Soviet Union was outlined Friday night by a State Department Eastern affairs expert who said, "We finally caught on and started to do something after Yalta."

Discussing "The United States and the Communist World" at the "America and the World Community" series sponsored by Lawrence University and the Post-Crescent, was William L. Stearman, public affairs adviser for the U.S. State Department in Soviet and Eastern European affairs.

Stearman, who said he spent half of his adult life behind the Iron Curtain, said our present foreign policy in regard to the Communist world "is basically realistic" while today's Soviet policy is "basically idiotic."

Contrasted Situations

Stearman contrasted today's situation with our dealings with the Soviet Union during World War II and immediately after World War II.

"Immediately after the war," he said, "practically all the Soviet army would have needed to conquer all of Western Europe would have been shoes."

"But they had just finished a bloody war," Stearman said. "which had cost them 10 per cent of their population. They didn't think they had to get into another war because they thought they had it made."

"At the Yalta Conference (in February, 1945), (President) Roosevelt told (Russian Premier) Stalin we would not leave troops in Europe two years after the war. Stalin probably considered this a 'carte blanche' to run over Western Europe," he said.

"Then," Stearman said, "on Feb. 21, 1946, Stalin said Russia needed more manpower in its army. This, I think, started the arms race."

"We had been naive," he said, "but we finally caught on and started to do something."

"First, came the Truman Doctrine and U.S. aid to Greece in its fight against the Communists. Then the turning point came when Gen. George Marshall sketched the idea of the 'Marshall Plan.' Since that time, the Soviets have been practically on the defense in Europe."

"What put them on the defensive," he said, "was the eagerness of even Eastern Europe to accept the Marshall Plan."

Influenced Yugoslavia
Stearman explained the Marshall Plan had much to do with Yugoslavia leaving Soviet control. "This policy has been successful," he said, "even though Yugoslavia's Tito sides

Rusk Meets With Gromyko Again

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko met again today to explore possible areas of agreement in East-West disputes.

U.S. officials said they expect no sharp Soviet policy changes which would allow solution of long-outstanding cold war issues.

But they believed that the new Kremlin regime still follows former Premier Nikita Khrushchev's peaceful coexistence line and said Gromyko appears to be interested in searching for areas of possible agreement.

Today's session is scheduled for 4 p.m. EST at the headquarters of the U.S. mission to the U.N.

Reaction Is Varied To Arrests by FBI

Bobby Baker Case To Resume Tuesday With New Witness

Investigators Study Files Concerning German Beauty

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate investigators are studying FBI files on a West German beauty while the Bobby Baker inquiry marks time — probably to resume Tuesday.

The investigation by the Senate Rules Committee into allegations that Baker was the hub of an illegal political payoff was in its fourth day Friday when the FBI gave its permission for the committee staff to look at its files on Mrs. Ellen Rometsch.

"We'll move at once," said Lennox P. McLendon, special committee counsel. The name of Mrs. Rometsch popped up several times in the four days of testimony, and even before the current round of hearings began McLendon had placed a request with the Justice Department for the data on her.

Banker Quoted
Paul Aguirre, a Puerto Rican mortgage banker, was quoted in testimony Friday as having described "several days of partying in New Orleans" last year with Mrs. Rometsch, Baker and Communist world "is basically realistic" while today's Soviet policy is "basically idiotic."

At the time Baker was the secretary to the Senate Democrats and pursuing lucrative private business ventures while on the government payroll. He resigned the $19,800-a-year job in October 1963 amid allegations of conflict of interest.

When called as a witness this week, Baker invoked his constitutional right under the Fifth Amendment to refuse to answer questions that might tend to incriminate him. One of the questions was whether he had ever heard Mrs. Rometsch say she worked for the Communist East German government.

Baker similarly refused to testify in an earlier round of hearings by the committee, which concluded he was "guilty of many gross improprieties."

Aguirre invoked the Fifth Amendment Friday.

However, the committee heard testimony from Samuel J. Scott, one of its investigators.

Weapons for Rebels in Congo Seen in Sudan

KHARTOUM, Sudan (AP) — believed to be a main supply base for the rebels. A group of Sudanese soldiers treating Congolese rebels are transferred rifles Friday from a passing through here en route to Ghana Airways Comet jet into an airport only 100 miles from the Congo's northern border, shutting Khartoum airport officials have and Juba. Officially, the plane's cargo was labelled "medical supplies," but airport officials said they were rifles.

The Juba field will not accommodate the four-engine jet aircraft.

Three days ago Sudan's foreign minister Mohammed Ahmed Mahgoub denied in an interview that the million-square-mile nation, the largest in Africa, had any intention of being used as a base for war operations.

Haven For Rebel
The Sudan, however, provided a haven for Congolese rebel "defense minister" Gerson Soumialot who arrived during the week with a force of 200 men. A spokesman for the Congolese rebels claimed that Soumialot had left Khartoum Friday in preparation for a visit to the United States, but he was seen in the capital late in the day.

Civil Rights Violations Charged Against 19; Two Arrested as Accessories

BY MIKE SMITH

PHILADELPHIA, Miss. (AP) — Anger, unrest and unanswered questions gripped this eastern Mississippi town today after the FBI arrested 21 white men Friday in connection with the murder of three civil rights workers last summer.

Twenty of the 21, including Neshoba County Sheriff Lawrence Rainey, Deputy Cecil Price and five Ku Klux Klan men, were free on bond, awaiting a hearing in federal court at Meridian Thursday.

FBI Complaint
The FBI charged 19 of the men with violating the civil rights of the three workers, and the other two as accessories.

The FBI complaint said Price and nine of the others plotted the interception of the workers near Philadelphia and that it was part of the conspiracy that they "would threaten, assault, shoot and kill them."

The victims were Michael Schwerner and Andrew Goodman, two white New Yorkers, and James Chaney, a Negro of Meridian, Miss. They disappeared after going to Philadelphia from nearby Meridian to investigate a church bombing. Their bodies were found in an earth-fill dam 44 days later.

The big question as Philadelphia residents locked their doors and deserted their streets Friday night was whether any of the 21 men swept up in the FBI net would actually be charged with murder.

State Prosecution
Murder is not a federal crime unless it is committed on federal property. The FBI said it would turn over information to the state for possible murder prosecution.

Dist. Atty. William H. Johnson Jr., the state prosecutor for [this red clay hill section of Mississippi, said he was studying the FBI charges, "but I am not in a position to say what action will be taken." Johnson said the next grand jury which could return murder indictments was scheduled to meet in February. Philadelphia, a town of 6,000 which boasts livestock and lumber as its major industries, was a place of paradox after the news of the arrests swept the nation Friday.

"This has just ruined our Christmas," said one woman, who asked that her name not be used. "I wish they could have done it sooner, so it wasn't so close to Christmas."

Called Unfair
A salesman, who also asked to remain anonymous, said, "I hate to try to go out selling Monday. I know this is going to slow things down."

And there was anger. "It seems like they are trying to make an example," one businessman said. "That's why it's so unfair."

Another man said he figured the 21 would be held under large bonds — "whatever figure was set by the Rev. Martin Luther King. You know, he's running our government."

The 19 men charged with violating the rights of the murdered men could get 10 years in prison, a fine of $5,000 each, or both, if they are convicted on the federal charges.

The other two charged as accessories could get three years in prison, a $500 fine, or both.

Stormy Sessions

Burch Ouster Demand Blocks Agreement by Governors

DENVER (AP) — Republican governors tried to hammer out today the final version of a statement proposing a change in the conservative leadership of their party.

But a stormy session — and long distance telephone calls — at Colorado Gov. John A. Love's mansion Friday night failed to produce any unanimous agreement among the 18 GOP government and governors-elect summoned here for a showdown on a proposal to demand the ouster of national GOP chairman Dean Burch.

The assessment made by those who attended the session was that Burch would not be named in a formal statement to be issued later in the day. Instead, a majority of the state executives were expected to call for a more progressive leadership of their party.

The GOP governors thus were reportedly backing away from pinpointing any direct challenge to Sen. Barry Goldwater's tenuous control of the party machinery.

And Gov. Paul Fannin of Arizona, elected to fill Goldwater's Senate seat, made it clear he would have some dissenting remarks when the statement was issued.

Fannin hadn't expected to attend the sessions called here by Idaho Gov. Robert E. Smy-

Laird Is Mentioned As Possible Leader

DENVER (AP)—Rep. Melvin Laird, R-Wis., has been suggested as the possible leader of a national Republican party policy making group.

The proposal was advanced at the Republican Governor's Association conference Friday by Rep. Robert Wilson, R-Calif., who is chairman of the GOP congressional campaign committee.

Laird, chairman of the conference, but flew in Friday night and called the meeting irresponsible.

Smylie had pushed for a resolution demanding Burch's replacement. But he encountered opposition to this from such party liberals as Govs. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York and Mark O. Hatfield of Oregon, keynote of the San Francisco convention which nominated Goldwater for president. The word from both was: no personalities.

Telephone Number Game Is Test of Player's Memory

BY CAPPY DICK

How good is your memory for telephone numbers? Today's game is a test.

There may be as many players as you wish, but the more there are the more fun the game can be.

The second player (Alice in Figure 2) repeats George's number and gives her own telephone number.

The third player (Frank in Figure 3) repeats George's number, Alice's number and adds his own. The game then goes to the fifth player, the sixth, etc.

Before long, a player will miss a number and consequently will be eliminated from the game.

If the game continues through all of the players with no one forced out, the game returns to the first player, George. Having already given his own phone number, he adds the number of someone not present. The game then continues through all the players again.

Don't be Prejudiced About Color

BY ALFRED SHEINWOLD

In spite of anything you may hear, I am not prejudiced against the king of clubs, and I am not partial to diamonds. The fact is that diamonds are a girl's best friend, and my mother always told me I was a boy. The rumors got around as usual because of a bridge hand.

West opened the king of diamonds, and I put down my hand as the dummy. West shifted to the ten of clubs at the second trick.

My partner (if that is the word) tried a finesse with the queen of clubs. East took the king and returned the ten of spades. A few minutes later the opponents had taken a club, a diamond and two spades, and we were out 100 points.

The rumors got started because of what I said about clubs and diamonds. Actually, I was just describing how my partner should have played the hand.

Refuse Finesse

The correct play is to put up the ace of clubs at the second trick. Then declarer should lead the ten of diamonds from dummy, discarding the remaining low club from his hand.

West wins with the jack of diamonds and leads another club. South can ruff, laughing scornfully at the king of clubs.

Declarer draws two rounds of trumps and leads the nine of diamonds from dummy, discarding a spade this time. West takes the ace of diamonds but nothing can stop declarer from getting to dummy with a trump to discard the queen of spades on dummy's eight of diamonds.

The principle is that South gives up two diamond tricks that he doesn't have to lose rather than give up three tricks in the black suits.

Daily Question

As dealer, you hold: S A Q 3; H Q J 10 8 7 6 5; D Q; C 6 5.

What do you say?

Answer: Pass. Avoid counting a singleton queen as 2 points for high cards and also 2 points for a singleton. It just isn't worth that much, and this hand is therefore not quite worth an opening bid. If you changed the queen of hearts to the king, the hand would be worth an opening bid of one heart.

Girl, 11, to be Given Reward

Finds Bank Bag Filled With Money, Returns to Store

There is a reward in the mail today for an 11-year-old Appleton school girl, who Thursday night came across "more money than she's ever seen in her life."

Kathy Ashel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Ashel, 430 E. MacArthur St., found a bank bag containing $246 near an Appleton store Thursday and promptly turned the bag over to the store owner.

The bag's owner, Harold Wenninger, 2525 Lillian Court, was notified of his loss, and police have turned the money over to him.

Thanked Her

Wenninger said today he contacted Miss Ashel after the money was recovered and thanked her personally. He also indicated that he will mail a reward to her for her honesty.

Miss Ashel was downtown shopping with her father when she came upon the bag at 2643 Oneida St., a paint store. When she opened the bag she saw it contained "a lot of bills." She took the bag into the store and the owner recalled that Wenninger had just left the store and the bag must have dropped out of his pocket when he left.

Mrs. Ashel said her daughter was "plenty excited" about the find, and said it was more money than she had ever seen.

CNW Starts Suit to Fight Assessment

The Chicago & North Western Railway Co. is starting another lawsuit against the City of Appleton — this time to fight a $484.40 street assessment.

Notice of the suit, which will be tried in Outagamie County Circuit Court, was served on city officials Tuesday by the Milwaukee law firm representing the railroad.

The North Western is protesting its being assessed for the grading and graveling of the Washington - Franklin Street extension. The assessment is on property it owns.

The railroad claims the assessment is unconstitutional and contrary to state law. The North Western contends it is being damaged as a result of the street improvements.

The railroad also claims the assessment is contrary to a public service commission order that said the City of Appleton should construct approaches to the tracks at the grade crossings at its own expense.

In another action, pending in Dane County Circuit Court, the railroad is fighting the PSC order which granted the city the street extension and two new grade crossings.

Comets, Wildcats Stay Undeclared In CW Cage Race

Weyauwega, Manawa Also Win; Pitt Scores 40 for Amherst

Wittenberg and Waupaca remained unbeaten after three games in Central Wisconsin Conference play by posting wins Friday night. The Wildcats overpowered Iola - Scandinavia, 84-68, while the defending champion Comets downed Marion, 76-67.

In other games, Weyauwega triumphed over Wautoma, 70-49, and Manawa downed Amherst, 77-66, despite a 40-point offensive performance by the Falcons' John Pitt.

Wittenberg had a tough battle with I-S in the first period and led by only a 20-18 margin. In the second period, however, the Wildcats poured in 28 points to take a 48-34 halftime lead. Steve Westlund and Tom Stollenberg each contributed three baskets during a 4-minute span to pull Wittenberg far into the lead.

The second half saw the Thunderbirds battle on even terms with the Wildcats, but I-S could not overcome Wittenberg's second quarter bulge.

Five Wildcats hit in double figures. Steve Bloecher paced the victors with 19 points; Stollenberg added 18, Westlund and Steve Voelz 14, and Cowles 13. Arden Stollenberg scored 21 markers for I-S. George Gjertson followed closely behind with 20, and Netzler counted 17.

Waupaca capitalized on tremendous free throw accuracy in turning back Marion. Both the Comets and the Mustangs hit on 25 field goal attempts, but Waupaca iced the game by making 26 of 33 free throws.

Marion Trails

The first quarter was miserable for Marion, who trailed, 22-10, at its conclusion. The Mustangs finally found the range in the second period to trail, only 34-30, at the half. In the second half, the Comets began to drop in their crucial charity tosses, and they were also aided by the fouling out of Tom Jolin, Marion's only player over six feet tall.

Leading scorer for Waupaca was Chuck Dahlke with 34 points. Dave Peterson had 13. Ken Frailing set the pace for Marion by dropping in 17.

Sixteen baskets and eight free throws by John Pitt were not enough to defeat Manawa, as Pitt had little scoring help from his teammates.

Manawa led all the way. The score was 22-13 after the first quarter and 45-27 at halftime. Jim Trantow and Alan Sadrowski rebounded well for Manawa.

The fourth period was the only one in which Amherst outplayed the Wolves. The Falcons scored 21 fourth quarter points, 18 by Pitt. Three Manawa regulars fouled out within one minute of the start of the period. Dan Steinbach's 28 markers paced Manawa. Bill Tesin added 13.

Weyauwega trailed Wautoma, 16-14, after a quarter of play, then overwhelmed the Hornets. The Indians' lead was 36-29 at the half, 57-43 after three quarters, and 70-49 at the conclusion. The Indians made 23 field goals and 24 charity tosses.

Larry Kriefe notched 18 points for the Indians. Jim Hildebrand 15, and Nick Wolft and Guy Lankford 13.

St. Elizabeth Is Installing Two Boilers

Installation of two new boilers as part of the St. Elizabeth Hospital expansion program has been started.

The new gas-fired, water-tube boilers will be installed, replacing the present coal-fired boiler system, and the boiler room is undergoing a complete renovation.

The new boilers together are capable of producing the minimum expected requirement of 40 million pounds of steam per year. They will be convertible in a matter of minutes from gas to oil or vice versa, in the event of a failure of the fuel supply.

Because the present furnace system must be removed before the second new boiler can be installed, the hospital will be operating on one boiler for about two months. The first new boiler is expected to be in operation by Dec. 20. One boiler is capable of heating the present hospital.

Water softening equipment also is being installed.

Jury Awards $6,500 for Condemned Land

OSHKOSH — A circuit Court jury decision Thursday awarded Mr. and Mrs. William G. Hughes $6,500 for property they own which was secured for the widening and reconstruction of State 26 southwest of Oshkosh.

The jury found, after three days of testimony, that the Hughes property was worth $26,500 before the state acquired .64 of an acre for the highway right-of-way. The property now is worth $20,000, the jury ruled.

Two jurors dissented as to the value for the property acquired for the highway. The jury award exceeds that which the state had offered in an award of damages for the land needed.

The Hugheses appealed that award of damages to the Circuit Court where it was heard this week before Circuit Judge Arnold J. Cane.

Appleton Share Of Power Firm Tax Is $199,467

Appleton's share of Wisconsin Michigan Power Company's 1964 property tax bill is $199,467 or $25,146 higher than last year.

The company's total property tax bill in Wisconsin amounted to $1,068,629. This is the first time in the company's history that its state property taxes have exceeded $1 million.

The money has been paid to the state treasurer in Madison. It will be apportioned to the cities, towns, villages and counties in which the utility owns property. The state will retain 17 per cent of the total amount paid.

County Share

Outagamie County's share of the tax also increased this year. The county will receive a check for $91,144 or $9,885 more than last year. All other municipalities and counties within the company's service area will receive payments according to the amount of property and business conducted in their respective areas.

In all, 12 counties, 101 towns, 12 villages and 11 cities receive a share of the Power Company's tax payment.

Some of the government units in this area that will receive shares and the amount each receives are: City of Neenah, $86,736; City of Menasha, $27,362; Town of Grand Chute, $25,815; Town of Greenville, $4,735; City of Seymour, $4,185; Village of Hortonville, $3,713; Village of Kimberly, $16,410; Village of Hilbert, $1,974 and Town of Freedom, $4,249.

In commenting on the record payment a spokesman for the Power Company said that the increased tax reflects added investment in facilities to keep pace with improvements in technology and increasing demands for service.

State Leader

Rasmussen has been a leader in pick-your-own experimentation in the state. Fleming has been manager of the Frank Orchards in Gays Mills for 25 years.

Hilbert High Lettermen's Club To Raise Funds by Candy Sale

HILBERT — The high school lettermen's club Monday started a three-week candy sale to raise money to purchase and process films of school athletic contests.

Last year the club, during its first year of existence, raised enough money to purchase a movie camera to take pictures of five football and five basketball games.

The club has set the candy sale goal at 600 boxes. In addition to the candy sale, the club also sponsors the showing of these films, conducts concessions at basketball games and sponsors student dances.

BRILLION — In a frenzied game the Brillion Lions inched past the Chilton Tigers, 50-48, in Eastern Wisconsin Conference basketball play.

The Lions, led by the dead-eye shooting of forward Jim Ross, who tallied 27 points to lead both teams in scoring, and the savage rebounding of John Lindner, took an early lead and maintained it throughout the game, except for one time when the score was tied 46 all late in the fourth period.

Chilton lost in an attempt to tie the game with less than a minute left when Al Whitby missed a short jump shot that would have tied the game at 48 all. The Tigers, with only two seconds left gained control of the ball but were unable to get a shot off before the final whistle.

Hampered by Fouls

Both teams were severely hampered by foul trouble. Chilton's Nick Casper racked up three fouls before the end of the first quarter and had to sit out all of the second and most of the third periods. Guards Don McHugh and Jerry Lodes were both benched in the fourth period with five fouls. Brillion's John Haun fouled out with six minutes remaining in the second quarter.

Neither team was outstanding on the floor. Chilton was marred with lack of rebounding and cold shooting while both teams

THE CHRISTMAS STORY IN CAROLS-2

"While Shepherds Watched Their Flocks by Night" gives us the inspiring story of the angels appearing to the shepherds in the fields and telling them of the birth of the baby Jesus.
The words were written by Nahum Tate, poet laureate of England from 1692 to 1715. It is probably his best known work. The music is arranged from the works of George Frederick Handel.
Each year as we hear the words and music they reaffirm our faith in the most beautiful story of all time. The words of the angels reflect the undying spirit of Christmas.
"All glory be to God on high,
And to the earth be peace:
Goodwill henceforth, from heaven to men,
Begin and never cease!
Begin and never cease!"

Official Calls U. S. Foreign Policy Realistic
with Russia sometimes in the U.N.
"But he's been on our side sometimes, too. Most important, though, Yugoslavia is independent and outside of Soviet control," he said.
"This is the basis of our policy toward Eastern Europe. The average person looks at the map and sees the Communist world as one red blob. This just ain't so. There's an immense difference between these countries," he said.
"Take Poland," he said. "It's poles apart from Bulgaria. Vladislav Gomulka, their leader, was a good Communist, but he also was a good Pole."
Frustrate Ambitions
Explaining present U.S. relations with the Soviets, Stearnman said, "We try to frustrate their ambitions and also establish contacts to ease tensions. We've got to live with them while frustrating their expansionist desires."
"One of our main goals is to build a desire in the Soviet people for a better life so the Russian government will have to manufacture goods to quench that desire and also ease up on military production," he said.
He called Russian foreign policy "expedient" and "unplanned" and said the Soviet threat "is not ideological, only military."
"So our foreign policy is based on maintaining a military force sufficient to counter theirs. If you're as strong as the said the hearings probably would other side, they can have no political advantage over you," he said.

wax and Mexico now provide technical assistance to less developed nations."
He also cited Belgium, Canada, Denmark, France, Germany, Italy, Japan, the Netherlands, Norway, Portugal, the United Kingdom, Australia, Austria, Kuwait, New Zealand, Sweden and Switzerland as countries who provide bilateral aid.
Tensions Remain
"But," McCrory said, "we still live in a dangerous world. The outcome of the struggle in southeast Asia is by no means certain. Dangerous tensions remain in south Asia and the Middle East. The new nations of Africa are just starting down the road towards stability and economic growth. Latin America's attempt to attack the historic problems under the Alliance for Progress is barely three years old."
"Seventeen years of economic assistance has not relieved us of the need to make difficult foreign policy choices," he said, "nor the need to maintain our defenses or the need to work out new patterns of trade policy and international order. The world other countries need to develop or, in cases like Viet Nam, simply to stay aloft in the face of direct Communist insurgency."
McCrory said about 70 percent of today's U. S. aid is financed by loans, repayable in dollars, and two-thirds of American loans go to countries "with good records of self-help and performance like India, Pakistan, Turkey, Colombia, Chile, Tunisia and Nigeria."
Emphasis Changed
"Another important change in our foreign aid program," he said, "is greater emphasis on Latin America."
He said during the 12 years from 1948 to 1960 aid to Latin America was only 2 percent of our total assistance effort, but today Latin America receives about one-fourth of U. S. aid.
McCrory pointed out that many former recipients of American aid now are becoming donors. "For example," he said, "Israel, the Republic of China on Taiwan and Mexico now provide technical assistance to less developed nations."

SHEBOYGAN — Clutch shooting by Loren Buist and Glen Sanville helped carry Sheboygan North's Raiders to a 67-64 Fox River Valley Conference upset over previously unbeaten Appleton Friday night.

Appleton and North are now both 1-1 in conference play. The win was North's first of the year after decisive losses to Kaukauna and Oshkosh. The Terrors, had posted three impressive wins.

The battle was tight all the way. The score was either tied or the lead changed hands 27 times.

After the first quarter, the score was knotted at 14-14. The Terrors built up an early 10-5

Neenah Scores 66-55 Victory Over Truckers

Balanced Offense
With 15 Points

CLINTONVILLE — Neenah never trailed, as it took advantage of outside shots and free throws to defeat Clintonville 66-55, in Mid-Eastern Conference play here Friday night.

The game was loosely played by both sides, but Neenah got the jump on the Truckers early in the first quarter by scoring seven points to none. It looked as if the Rockets had the game completely under control at the end of the period, but Clintonville held its own for the rest of the game.

Coming out of the locker room after halftime on the short end of a 37-27 score, the Truckers began their bid. They came to within four points quickly, scoring eight points to Neenah's two to make the score 39-35, and then keeping the pace until near the end of the third quarter, when they fell seven points behind. From this point on, Clintonville never posed a real threat again.

Neither team shot well from the floor, Clintonville coming up with a meager 29 per cent, and Neenah hitting 31 per cent. The Rockets, however, had a substantial edge in free throws and free throw percentage, hitting on 22 of 32 for 69 per cent, as compared to Clintonville's 11 of 26 for 42 per cent.

The game's leading scorer was Rocket Jim Koepe with 15 points. He was followed by teammates Rex Loker and Mike Boyd, who each contributed 13 points to Neenah's balanced attack. Kurt Horn championed the Clintonville scoring with 14 points. Terry Dieck had 13.

NEENAH — (19-18-11-18 — 66) — Koepe 4-7-4, Loker 5-3-11, Kuehl 1-1-1, Pennow 1-6-4, Smeested 1-1-2, Boyd 5-3-4, Koehn 5-0-1 22-22-18.

CLINTONVILLE — (8-19-12-16 — 55) — Dahly 1-0-4, Hedke 1-0-0, Dieck 4-5-4, D. Hedke 1-0-3, Walschinski 4-1-3, Holm 5-4-2, Schmidt 1-0-2, Korb 2-0-2, Thompson 3-1-2, 22-11-21.

St. Mary's Heroux Scores 32 Points

Zephyr Quint Downs Chuters, 51 to 45

BY JIM HARP
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

LITTLE CHUTE — A lot of basketball shoe rubber was burned up, but the nets were barely warmed as St. Mary's Menasha scored a 51-45 Fox Valley Catholic Conference victory over St. John High School here Friday night.

Neither team showed any regard for finesse as they clipped through 32 minutes of racehorse basketball that saw numerous bad passes, violations and poor shooting.

Only bright spot of the contest was the outstanding performance turned in by St. Mary's sophomore whiz, Mike Heroux, who practically single-handedly turned the tables on the Dutchmen.

Heroux scored 33 points, better than half of the Zephyr total, and was instrumental in projecting a lead which dipped as low as two points in the final quarter.

Adds 8 Free Throws

Heroux bagged 12 field goals and added eight of 11 free throws. He had six buckets in each half and dropped in six clutch free throws in the final 1:56 to thwart a last ditch bid by the Chuters for a victory.

The triumph gives the Zephyrs a 1-1 slate in the conference. It was the first league tilt for the Dutchmen.

The Chuters, who hit on 12 of 30 field goal tries in the first half for a nifty 40 per cent, managed to connect on only five of 19 tries in the final two segments.

St. Mary had the edge in field goals, 18 to 17 and made good on 15 of 20 charity tosses, but four of the misses came on one-and-one situations in the final period.

St. Mary started fast and roll-

60-52 Victory

BY GEORGE MANCOSKY

MENASHA — Menasha saw a 16-point lead dwindle to two in the space of a few minutes in the third period but regained its composure to outlast Kimberly, 60-52, in the battle of Mid-Eastern Conference giants Friday night.

The victory was the fourth straight for the Menashans and fifth in a row over the parts of two seasons. Kimberly is 1-3 in the young season.

Coach Clem Massey's athletes had a comfortable 37-23 lead at the intermission and increased it to 16 points when Don Steffin made the first basket of the third period.

The lid then clamped down on the Bluejay bucket while the Kimberly nets warmed up. The Papermakers hit a skein of 14 straight points to cut the difference to two (39-37) with 1:30 left in the stanza.

The hot stretch constituted the visitors' entire third period production and included three baskets and a free throw by Don Van Grinsven, single buckets by John Reider, Chuck Meyer and Dave Weiland and a Meyer free throw.

Jays Recover

Kimberly was blanked in the rest of the period as Steffin put in a rebound shot and free throw and Dick Sorensen scored on a layup to increase the locals' advantage to 44-37 going into the last eight minutes.

Menasha's output for the frame was a slim seven points and it only connected once in its first 19 field goal tries.

The Twin Cities coined the first bucket of the fourth period but never were able to pull safely away until late. They gained a 57-45 lead with 1:30 left when Rick Zimmerman took a jump ball on the Kimberly free throw circle and dribbled all the way down for a layup.

With Reider hitting two baskets and a free throw and Jim Vanden Boogaard connecting from the corner, the string of seven trimmed the lead to five points with less than a half minute left but Menasha made three of four free throw tries in the last 20 seconds for a final spread of eight markers.

Take 6-0 Lead

Early action had pointed to a runaway as the Jays broke into a 6-0 lead and then a 21-11 advantage at the end of the first period. At one juncture in the

The loss is the first for Pennings in two league outings. Lourdes notched its second win against no losses in the young FVCC season and is 3-0 overall. Steve Madson was high scorer for the Squires with 15 points.

Xavier Quint Routs Premontre, 97-43

Hawks Gain
Seventh Win
In Succession

BY TERRY GALVIN
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Xavier High School's high-flying Hawks winged to its seventh triumph of the season in as many outings, a 97-43 decision over hapless Green Bay Premontre, before a capacity crowd here Friday night.

The Hawks, Fox Valley Catholic Conference leaders with a 3-0 mark, split the nets at a blistering 52.3 per cent from the floor. Premontre managed just 13 in 54 field goal tries for a 24.1 percentage. The Cadets are 0-2 in FVCC competition.

Tom Rankin, 6-2 senior center, led the Hawks in the early going with 21 markers. Rankin was lifted in favor of reserves late in the third quarter and remained on the bench for the remainder of the game.

Rankin hit on 10 of 15 floor shots, pacing the Hawks to 45 fielders in 86 attempts. Other sparkling performances were turned in by regulars Paul Rechner, five of nine from the floor; Paul Springer, six of 13; Steve Schmieder, 5 of 12 and reserves Gene Jack, five of eight and Larry Van Dyke, three of three.

12 For Springer

Four other Hawks attained double digits in the scoring column. Springer accounted for 12, with Rechner, Schmieder and Jack adding 10 apiece.

Jerry DeGroot, with 10 markers, was the lone Cadet to reach double figures. Paul Dupont was next in line with nine.

Rechner put the Hawks in front to stay shortly after the opening buzzer, dropping an easy layup on an out-of-bounds play. Three straight Xavier baskets followed, one each by Mike Heideman, Rankin and Rechner.

Before the Gary Herold-coached Cadets hit the scoreboard, Dupont's layup cut the deficit to 8-2.

The Gene (Torchy) Clark-directed Hawks increased the margin to 25-9 at period's end, hitting on 12 of 22 from the floor. Premontre managed a meager two of 11 in that span.

A 23-point second quarter increased the Xavier lead to 48-22 at intermission. Rankin's 13 and

U. S. Golfers Remain Tied For 'Cup' Lead

Palmer Shoots
67 to Retain Individual Honors

BY BOB MYERS

KAANAPALI, Maui, Hawaii (AP) — The United States and South Africa remained in a deadlock going into Saturday's third round of the Canada Cup golf matches, with their team leaders, Arnold Palmer and Gary Player one-two in the struggle for individual honors.

Today the U.S. twosome, Palmer and Jack Nicklaus, met England's Peter Alliss and Bernard Hunt, and Player and his partner, Denis Hutchinson, were paired with Mexico's Margarito Martinez and Juan Neri.

Referring to Palmer's pro-amateur score of 65-Wednesday, Nicklaus cracked:

"Sixty-five, 66 and 67, that's pretty good. But Arnie, you're going the wrong way."

"I'll start back the other way," Palmer promised.

Trailing the U.S. and South Africa in third place for the Canada Cup was Argentina, 279, and tied at 287 were Hawaii and Spain.

40-Foot Putt

Palmer finished his second round with a 40-foot putt on the first hole for a birdie, and closed out his birdie performance with a 25-footer on No. 16.

Palmer landed in a trap in front of the 18th green, blasted out well over the green, but chipped back brilliantly and sank a short putt for his par four.

Nicklaus, after a first round 72, improved with a 69 for 141.

Gary and Hutchinson registered a unique feat — both had eagle threes on the 482-yard 11th hole. Hutchinson did it with a drive and a 4-wood and holed out from 30 feet. Player used a drive and a 3-wood and sank it from 45 feet out.

Trailing Palmer and Player in individual play were Hawaii's Ted Makalena, 137; Hutchinson and Leopoldo Ruiz, Argentina, 139; Argentina's Roberto Vicen-sa, 146, and Nicklaus and Gary Van Donck, Belgium, 141.

China's Chen Ching Po, with a first round 68, skidded to 76 for 144.

Lawrence Rallies To Beat St. Olaf In League Opener

Vikes Score 7 Points in Last
1:22 for 71 to 67 Victory

BY JOHN L. PAUSTIAN
Post-Crescent Sports Editor

Lawrence University's ever-battling Vikings rallied for seven straight points in the final 82 seconds of play here Friday night to edge St. Olaf, 71-67, in a Midwest Conference season-opening basketball spine-tangler.

Forced to play catch-up ball most of the way against the experienced Oles, Lawrence found itself behind, 67-64, with less than 1½ minutes remaining. Sophomore Dick Schultz triggered

Rick Kroos then produced the eventual game-winning shot. He rocketed through a 20-footer with 46 seconds left, and the Vikes led, 68-67. Lawrence's Earl Hoover rebounded a missed Chuck Grover shot and was fouled. He dropped in a free throw with 30 seconds left to expand the lead to 69-67.

Schultz then came back with a pair of insurance free throws with 10 seconds remaining to account for the final 4-point spread.

The Vikes play host to another Northfield, Minn., entry—Carleton—at 1:30 p.m. today in Alexander Gym.

The clutch - scoring Schultz, Hoover and Kroos were but three of the heroes in the team victory scored by the Clyde Rusk-coached Vikes. They were joined in the double figure society by the other two regulars, Mike O'Fallon and Tom Steinmetz—while Gordon Bond, Jim Swanson, Bill Prange and Phil Strong all made vital contributions as reserves.

Snap Loss Streak

Lawrence shot 40.3 per cent from the floor (27 for 67) in snapping its 2 - season losing streak at nine games. The Vikes, however, cashed in on 17 of 26 from the free throw line—which proved the decisive factor in the game.

St. Olaf made 31 of 64 from the field (48.4 per cent) but sank only five of eight free throws.

Hoover, who sat out the first three or four minutes of the game, came on strong to take scoring honors with 19 points and Vike rebounding laurels, with nine. The high-soaring senior sank six of 13 floor shots and seven of 10 from the foul stripe.

O'Fallon popped in 14 points and was his team's second most effective rebounder. Schultz and Steinmetz fired in 11 points each, while Kroos manufactured 10.

Jeff Nelson, 6-3 forward, took 3:10 remaining. Fox Valley got four more on a jump shot by 9-for-21 field goal shooting. Fred Kiepe and a steal by Mark Russell, an Oshkosh native, was Dahlike before Northwestern got its first and only field goal in the first quarter. Keith Kuschel hit a jump shot with 1:50 remaining.

The Foxes led, 25-5, at the end of the quarter.

Philadelphia Involved in Four Deals, Gets Bo Belinsky

BY JOE REICHLER
HOUSTON (AP) — A flurry of coupled with an unrestricted draft of minor league players.

player trades on the closing day of the baseball winter meetings makes the Philadelphia Phillies the winter book favorites to win the National League pennant in 1965.

It also provides the Washington Senators with an opportunity to rise above ninth place for the first time in five years.

Baseball people were really shook up Friday by two major deals involving Frank Howard, Bo Belinsky and Claude Oster-

In the biggest transaction of the six-day meetings, the Senators swapped Osteen, their left-handed ace; third baseman

John Kennedy and an estimated $100,000 to the Los Angeles Dodgers for Howard, infielder-outfielder Ken McMullen and pitchers Pete Richert and Phil Ortega.

The deal was made after the Phillies acquired Belinsky from the Los Angeles Angels for young hopefuls Costen Shockley, a first baseman, and Rudy May, a left-handed pitcher.

Of the 10 deals consummated Sunday, the Phillies were involved in four. Earlier they acquired first baseman Dick Stuart from Boston for southpaw Dennis Bennett, right-handed pitcher Ray Herbert and first baseman Jeoff Long from the Chicago White Sox for outfielder Danny Cater and shortstop Lee Elia, and sold first baseman Vic Power back to the Angels.

In a third closing-day deal, the Minnesota Twins swapped left-handed pitcher Gerry Arrigo to the Cincinnati Reds for infielder-outfielder Cesar Tovar.

The biggest man in the trades, as well as in baseball, is outfielder batted only .225 last season but he smashed 24 home runs and drove in 69 runs. A $108,000 bonus "baby", he was National League Rookie of the Year in 1960 and enjoyed his best season two years later when he batted .296, hit 31 home runs and knocked in 119 runs.

Belinsky not only carries a 9-8 pitching record to Philadelphia but a reputation as a playboy. The Angels suspended him after he had an altercation with a Los Angeles sports writer in a Washington hotel Aug. 14. They later reinstated him and optioned him to Hawaii. He

Fear Stalks Mississippi

The arrests of twenty-one men in Mississippi in connection with the murder of the three civil rights workers last June is the FBI's answer to the "put up or shut up" type of advice given them by Sheriff Lawrence Rainey. Rainey and his deputy, Cecil Price, are among those arrested.

Since the federal government has no police power in regard to murder unless state lines are crossed, the men are being charged only with the federal offense of violating the civil rights of the three murdered men. But obviously, if the evidence against them holds up and they are convicted, there will be pressure upon Mississippi law enforcement agencies to prosecute for murder under the laws of the state of Mississippi. Unfortunately there is some doubt that a white man can be convicted of any offense against a Negro or those helping Negroes attain civil rights in Mississippi.

Sheriff Rainey and his deputy are specifically charged with cooperating with the accused murderers by arranging to arrest the civil rights workers on a minor traffic charge, holding them until a specified time and then releasing them where they could be caught by what can only be called a lynch mob. This is an appalling charge. The

The Appleton City Wage Dispute

The year-long contract dispute involving the City of Appleton and Teamsters Local 563 has dragged long enough and it would seem now that since a Wisconsin Employment Relations Board factfinder's recommendations are available the differences between the parties should be resolved with dispatch.

Both union and city negotiators owe it to themselves and the people of this community to restore a labor-management climate based on objectivity.

For months the personnel committee of the common council and representatives of the union met and discussed the 1964 contract demands but the collective bargaining process bogged down. An impasse was reached on 16 issues and both sides were agreeable to having a third party (factfinder) hear their sides, weigh the evidence and make recommendations of an advisory nature.

It is significant in that on the day of the factfinding hearing, attorneys for the union and city, with encouragement from the factfinder, sat down with their clients and were able to resolve 14 of the issues which plagued negotiations for months. The dispute narrowed down to wages and retroactivity.

The union's original wage demand was for 15 cents per hour increase, but was lowered to 10 cents. City negotiators said they felt adequate wages were being paid municipal employes in comparison with salaries paid by other communities, and rejected any increase. However, the personnel

The Revolt in the Congo

When the Belgian paratroopers were airlifted to Stanleyville to rescue white hostages held by the Congolese Communist-led rebels, it was reported that the rebels were on the run. The Belgians then ordered the paratroopers out although a lot more hostages were still held in more remote villages. Now the rebels have begun swarming all over the area again. Why wasn't the task of defeating the rebels finished?

The United States has emphasized that the mission was "humanitarian" and aimed only at rescuing hostages after efforts to negotiate broke down and it became apparent that all would be massacred. One American official commented that all who would ever get out alive had been rescued. The Belgians reportedly rather overextended their forces in the operation. But there must also be suspicion that the howls from black Africa were also to blame for the withdrawal.

Belgium and the United States are understandably sensitive about continuing military assistance to the government of Moise Tshombe in Africa. The United States long ago denounced colonialism. But there is a big difference between such colonialism and efforts to prevent a Communist form from developing. If the African nations want the petty tyrannies of small time dictators which several have, that is certainly their business although we can criticize. But the rebels in the Congo are being armed and encouraged by Red Chinese agents from Burundi. An African nation controlled from Peking is quite a different matter.

The major problem in determining how the rebels are to be beaten is to decide who is to fight them. Tshombe has hired white mercenaries, many from South Africa, which enrages all of the black African leaders. But the latter, while generally agreeing they might send volunteers to the Congo, have specified that the mercenaries had to leave first. And this would be almost certain to mean immense new advances by the rebels while Tshombe waited for the help from such nations as Kenya, Ghana and Guinea. Observers now say that they do not think Tshombe can win by himself with only the Congolese army. The opinion has not been explained but it is there.

The Johnson Administration reportedly men must be considered innocent unless proven guilty. And certainly, if the charge is false, every effort should be made to show that it is since the corruption of public officials, especially the assistance of police officials in the breaking of a law, is a blow against the structure of our society.

It was widely reported that the FBI received a tip which enabled them to go directly to where the bodies were buried. Apparently now, too, some Mississippi citizens have been willing to risk the threat of murder themselves, perhaps for money, perhaps for a promise of immunity. It is wise that they have. For the truth in the murder case is that another could happen at any time. And if no charges were brought, it would serve to encourage the murderers to strike again — against alleged tipsters, other civil rights workers, Negroes who didn't "know their place," even the moderate advocates of gradual moves toward integration.

We have been shocked at the stories of massacre from the Congo. But can any American look without a qualm at the terror that has stalked the city streets and country roads of quiet, peaceful, civilized Mississippi?

committee subsequently awarded merit raises to some city workers and increased fringe benefits to all.

The WERB factfinder recommended a 7 cent per hour increase, retroactive to Jan. 1, 1964. The union has agreed to the findings and the Personnel Committee and Common Council have not committed themselves.

Mayor Mitchell has scheduled an informal meeting of the council for Wednesday night to review the factfinder's recommendations.

Speaking at a recent League of Wisconsin Municipalities seminar for city officials from throughout the state, David B. Johnson, a professor of economics said: "Everyone is entitled to some skepticism about how well a system of labor-management relations can work in the public service. The usual economic considerations, the profitability of the firm, and the state of the labor market are not present in the same form they take in collective bargaining in private industry.

"Because these ordinary compulsions are different, if not completely absent, the legislature has quite properly prohibited the right (of municipal employes) to strike. It seems to me this prohibition gives added emphasis to the obligation of the municipal employer to meet and negotiate with the recognized representatives of the employe."

After going through factfinding, union and city officials now have a moral mandate for positive action, and it should come next week.

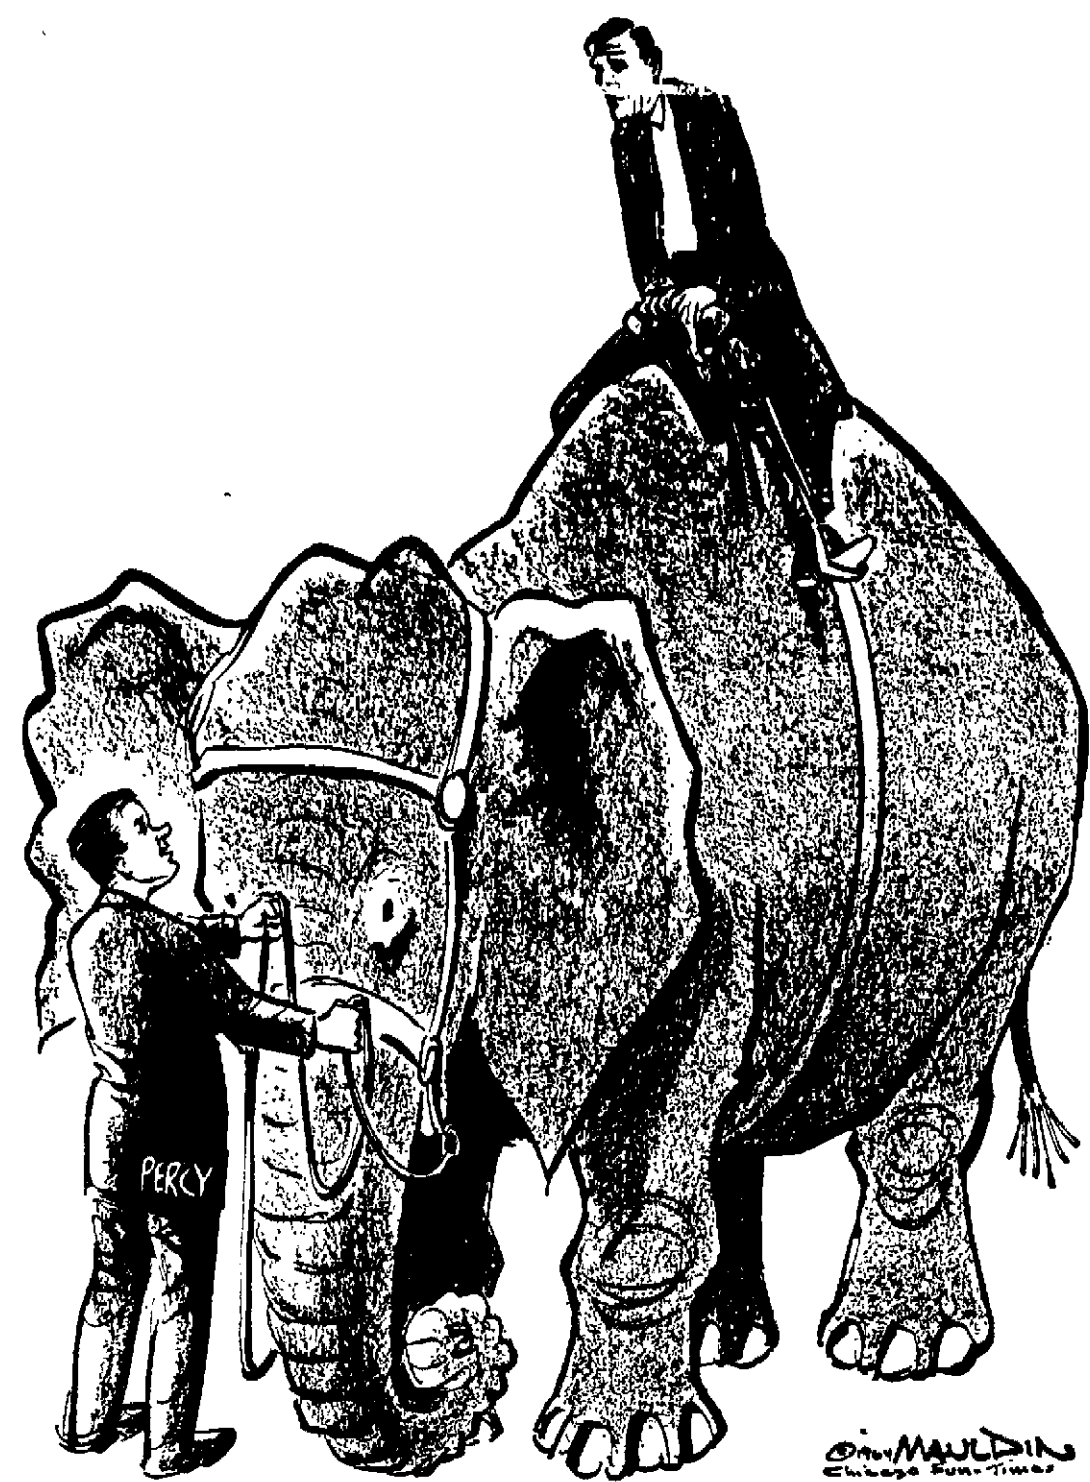

favors an African force to help Tshombe defeat the rebels. But it is doubtful that much help will come from the other members of the Organization of African Unity. They should remember that the mercenaries — and later the Belgians — came in only after the OAU had refused help to Tshombe who resolutely refuses to resign from the organization.

There are certainly historic reasons for the suspicions of black Africans toward intervention by Europeans. The fears and hatreds engendered by the years of colonialism cannot die away in less than a generation and most African areas haven't had more than a few short years of independence. People like Jomo Kenyatta are as sensitive about their right to authority as Americans are about not appearing to be trying to make all the decisions. But the dangers from Communist rebels continuing the chaos that has been the Congo's inheritance ever since it gained independence are far greater than any suspected so-called neocolonialism from non-Communist nations. There are signs that Nkrumah of Ghana at least may be recognizing this. Ghana joined thirteen African nations in requesting a Security Council hearing on the airport but it has not directly criticized the rescue efforts.

It should be apparent to all that now is the time to defeat the Congolese rebels before they get any stronger. Reluctance to do this led to the extension of both the Korean and Vietnamese conflicts so that compromise and artificial partitions were the only means of halting the terror short of what appeared to be the risk of all out war.

But who is to do the fighting? The Congolese alone are not strong enough. The Belgians don't care to. By all means the United States should not get involved in another jungle war until we've done something about the one we are engulfed in. Unless the United Nations wants once more to attempt to send an effective fighting force, the answer at this time is only the white mercenaries under the leadership of the Congolese government, such as it is.

In the meantime, what is the United States doing in Burundi about protesting the presence of Chinese agitators and a pipeline in arms to the rebels? How much American aid goes to Burundi?

Is Smear of J. Edgar Hoover Linked to Kennedy's Murder?

Editor, Post-Crescent:

It is the day after the anniversary of the foul murder of John F. Kennedy.

The newspapers are filled with descriptions of the floral tributes to his memory, the eulogies that were delivered in the various churches, and messages of praise from foreign countries.

The Russian Pravda joined in this. It could do no less. Hadn't John F. Kennedy helped the Russians present a peace-loving face to the world because of the one-sided test ban treaty that was consummated between Khrushchev and Kennedy?

Who knows what tests are made in the mountains of Russia? No inspection is permitted, but we, the people of the United States are being disarmed.

The Russians are still in Cuba with men and bombs despite the showing they made in removing canvas-covered crates from the island. John F. Kennedy took the faithless word of the Russians that these were missiles. Or did he know better?

What about the poor Cubans, who, depending upon the word of a President of the United States, were betrayed at the Bay of Pigs?

My first reaction to the shock of the terrible news of John Kennedy's death was a question in my mind, "What is Madame Nhu thinking now?"

Was she thinking of the brutal killing of her husband and her brother-in-law in South Viet Nam by the Communist Buddhists? What did John F. Kennedy and his emissary Henry Cabot Lodge do to prevent this? They had permitted the Communists to seize the government.

What about the "Executive Orders" so glibly mouthed by the Atty. General, the President's brother?

Congress and Congress, alone, can make our laws. Nevertheless, before the Civil Rights Bill was passed, Robert Kennedy in the name of his brother said, "This is an Executive Order. No federal money will be given to any contractor, builder, or manufacturer who practices discrimination."

This is only one of the many instances in which the Kennedy administration usurped the powers of Congress by their so-called "Executive Orders." What did John Kennedy's grief-stricken successor, Lyndon Johnson do to ferret out the murderers?

He by-passed J. Edgar Hoover and the FBI who are the legitimate investigators of crime in the United States and he turned the investigation over to a Dick Tracy Warren Commission.

From the newspapers, I can glean one fact about the Warren Report—it does a fine job of smearing J. Edgar Hoover and the FBI.

The Post-Crescent has joined in this by hinting in an editorial that J. Edgar Hoover, because of his sixty-nine years is becoming "crotchety." Would this editorial writer apply this term to Truman, Eisenhower or Bernard Baruch? Yet, these men are from five to twenty years older than the FBI chief.

It has been very popular to use the Communist technique to destroy faith in fine Americans by referring to them as "irreponsible, paranoid, trigger-happy," etc.

Does the Warren Report tell us who in the State Department gave Oswald the money to return from Russia? They surely provided an accurate marksman.

Does the Warren Report include the testimony of an employee of Jack Ruby, Billie Del Mar, who minutes after Oswald was killed, testified over television that Oswald was in Ruby's club about three weeks before John Kennedy's murder. Millions of people saw and heard del Mar.

Did Robert Kennedy's justified, but relentless prosecution of the Bobby Baker case have anything to do with his brother's murder?

Robert Kennedy was ousted and he was not even permitted to take part in the investigation of John's death.

These are the questions all Americans are asking. In view of all this, I shall never make a pilgrimage to John Kennedy's grave, never place a flower upon it, and I shall never join my voice with certain of my fellow Catholics who have literally canonized him.

Regardless, I still feel that the Warren Report is so much whitewash, and that no effort has been made to search behind the murder of a President of the United States.

The man capable of this effort, J. Edgar Hoover, is being smeared. Is it to protect the guilty?

Additional Money for Highways Not Likely To Be Forthcoming

BY JOHN WYNGAARD
MADISON — A respected Irish relative used to observe ironically, when a well-to-do

Wyngaard

person pretended impecuniousness, that he "speaks out of a poor mouth."

Such a wry comment she would undoubtedly apply to the State Highway Dept. release of last week announcing its plan to spend no less than $107 millions in state highway construction in 1965 but lamenting simultaneously that the amount falls far short of meeting urgent needs for highway modernization.

As it happens, this reporter is probably more sympathetic toward the goals of the highway administration, without regard to the identity of the officials who happen to be occupying its managing seats, than most of the residents of the state. Work obligations require a travel schedule considerably beyond that of most fellow citizens. To travel some of the new highways of latest and best design is a pleasure. Using some of the new divided lane routes which bypass populated centers enables the busy traveler to save many valuable hours in the course of a week or a month.

EUT. . .

But this reporter also tries to cultivate a realism in his work. As it turns out, there is very little evidence of any widespread public support for more highway construction through additional highway taxation—not to mention any public demand.

Such communications as are frequently received generally can be traced to the commercial interests involved. These are good men too. But they won't be offended if it is noted that a highway contractor or an allied interest conceivably has a prejudice about the wisdom of more highway spending than is not present among ordinary residents.

Gov. Reynolds, who joined in the Highway Dept.'s plea for more money when it released its 1965 construction schedule last week, will leave office next month convinced that he was betrayed when the legislature put his own highway bonding program to a referendum test last spring.

To a degree he may be correct. If all of the state's financial plans would be put to a referendum, the state budget would remain static and many of the pending service expansions would die. People don't vote for a tax when they are given a voice.

Yet the referendum results were so overwhelming that it is a fair conclusion that there is far less desire for a huge new highway building program than the governor thought. Margins of up to 14 to one, and a total vote of 85 per cent against the proposition, cannot be easily argued away, quite aside from the governor's obvious involvement in a political power play.

THE COMPETITION

Any person who reflects seriously upon the fiscal demands of the state upon the taxpayers during the next few years must have his doubts about the timing of the highway expansion demand, whatever his views about the merits. Gov.-elect Knowles, for example, cautiously endorsed the idea of some highway fund enlargement during his campaign. There is very little question that he meant it. The qualifications in his declaration related to his awareness of the enormity of the competing demands for more state and local taxes, and especially in the field of education at all levels.

The man who spoke cautiously as a candidate is now responsible for drafting a fiscal plan. Every hour of his budget hearings makes it plainer that it will require no less than genius to survive those financial challenges without affront to the voter. In the end, no doubt reluctantly, he will probably conclude that this is not the time to aggravate the electorate further with new highway taxes.

Why Is Another Health Care Program Needed

Editor, Post-Crescent:

This is an open letter to Congressman - elect John A. Race of Fond du Lac.

Dear Mr. Race:

The news media recently reported your saying that because of indifference on the part of those who should care, tax-supported medical care for the elderly under Social Security (Medicare) is assured of passage in the coming session of Congress. The news articles went on to give your description of an elderly man who evidently refused needed medical care because of a conviction against charity. The implication was that tax-supported Social Security medicine would solve all such problems.

In actual fact, individuals in every segment of our society have been concerned about the problem of medical care for the elderly. The real controversy has been over the best way to provide such care.

The working man, usually with a family to support, already pays taxes furnishing a generous federal-state medical program for the elderly who can't pay for it. This is the Kerr-Mills Law. Why should our people be expected to pay for a second plan that is not needed?

Governor John Reynolds many times in his campaign praised the Wisconsin Kerr-Mills Law providing comprehensive medical care for our elderly citizens. We call it Health Opportunity Program for the Elderly. This program enables individual states, with federal assistance, to guarantee to every elderly person who needs help the health care he or she requires. Thousands of people every day are being helped by its broad benefits.

What is Social Security? The Supreme Court of the United States on two occasions has denied that Social Security is insurance and has stated that "the Social Security system is a welfare program supported by taxation." Therefore, Social Security is no more or no less acceptable from the standpoint of charity than any other government welfare program including Federal Housing, Old Age Assistance, and Aid to Dependent Children, all of which have means tests, including Social Security itself. The taxpayer has a right to be assured that those receiving his hard-earned dollars for personal needs are truly in need.

In the hope that you will seek further improvements in the health program for the elderly that we are already supporting, I am enclosing a pamphlet outlining the eligibility requirements and benefits of the excellent Wisconsin Kerr-Mills program now in effect. Why pay twice?

Reaction Varies to 21 Arrests by FBI

 might be relieved that the FBI's case was broken.
 Tannehill said, in an editorial which appeared in his paper Thursday, that the FBI should "cut out this cloak and dagger stuff" and make arrests if it was going to.
 Philadelphia went about its business today—market day in a farming community — uncertain. Gov. Paul B. Johnson refused to comment on whether he would act to remove Sheriff Rainey or Deputy Price from office.
 Also arrested were a city patrolman, Otha Neal Burks, 71, and the Rev. Edgar Ray Killen, 39, a fundamentalist Baptist minister.
 Four Agents
 The FBI roundup began shortly after 9 a.m. Friday when four agents, attired in trenchcoats against the chill weather, arrested Rainey and Price at the courthouse while a curious crowd waited outside.
 They were whisked away in separate cars. The crowd was angry. A news photographer was threatened by a man with a knife.
 Sixteen others were arrested in the Philadelphia area and in Meridian, in an adjoining county. They were taken to an officers lounge at the Meridian Naval Air Station.
 As the group stood, waiting for U.S. Commissioner Esther Carter to arraign them, lawyers told them to say nothing.
 All were silent.
 Bonds Posted
 The commissioner released the 18 on $5,000 bond each. Another was arrested at Gulfport, on the Mississippi coast, and another at Shreveport, La.
 The last, Tommy A. Horne, 28, of Meridian, owner of a plumbing firm at Bonita, La., was arrested at his home Friday night when he returned from a business trip. Horne, one of two arraigned on accessory charges, was released on $3,500 bond. The other man charged as an accessory, Earl B. Akin, 32, a Meridian trailer salesman was freed earlier on $5,000 bond.
 The nine persons identified with Price by the FBI complaint as plotters were Jimmy Arledge, 27, Meridian truck driver; Horace Doyle Barnett, 25, former Meridian salesman; Travis M. Barnett, 36, Meridian garage operator; Alton Wayne Roberts, 26, Meridian salesman; Jimmy Snowden, 31, Meridian truck driver; James E. Jordan, 38, Gulfport, Miss., construction worker; Billy Wayne Posey, 28, Philadelphia service station operator; Jerry McGrew Sharpe, 21, Philadelphia used car salesman; and Jimmy Lee Townsend, 17, Philadelphia service station attendant.
 Remained in Jail
 Jordan, who did not make bond, was the only one held in jail.
 The other nine, also charged as violating the civil rights of the three workers but not specifically mentioned as having been involved in the plot, were: Bernard L. Akin, 50, Meridian salesman; Olen L. Burage, 34, Philadelphia truck company operator; James T. Harris, 30, Meridian truck driver; Frank J. Herndon, 46, Meridian drive-in restaurant operator; the Rev. Killen; Sheriff Rainey; Herman Tucker, 36, Philadelphia contractor, and Oliver R. Warner Jr., 54, Meridian grocery store operator.
 Ku Klux Klan
 Identified by the FBI as members of the Ku Klux Klan, an anti-Negro terrorist organization, were Bernard Akin, Harris, Herndon, Jordan and Warner. The FBI said others were Klan sympathizers.
 Laurel Weir of Philadelphia, attorney for Sheriff Rainey and some of the others, said "our clients are innocent. They have not been indicted by any grand jury and have not even been bound over to await action of the grand jury, but have merely been placed under temporary bond."
 Weir said the government would have to produce sufficient evidence at next week's hearing for the prosecution to continue.
 The web of circumstances that led to the 21 arrests Friday began last June when the Mt. Zion Negro Church near Philadelphia was burned and the church elders were beaten.
 Trio Jailed
 When Schwerner, Chaney and Goodman went to investigate, Price said he jailed them, charged Chaney with speeding and released them after Chaney posted $20 bond.
 That was the last anyone admitted seeing them alive.
 Two days later their burned station wagon was found at the edge of a swamp northeast of Philadelphia.
 The search was intensified. President Johnson sent 400 sailors from the Meridian Naval Station to wade through the snake-infested swamps with state and FBI investigators.
 On Aug. 4, the FBI dug the bodies from the earthen dam. Price assisted. Chaney, the Negro, had been viciously beaten. All had been shot. Tucker, one of those arrested Friday, was the contractor who built the dam.
 Reaction Varied
 Reaction to the arrests Friday was varied. The National Urban League praised the arrests as an "outstanding effort to protect the civil liberties and freedoms of American citizens."
 The Rev. Martin Luther King, who has criticized the FBI's effectiveness in the South, commended the agency but said "honesty and realism compel me to admit that it will be very difficult to get a conviction."
 Robert Goodman, father of one of the murdered youths, called in New York for "prompt and vigorous prosecution of those responsible."
 In Washington, Mrs. Rita Schwerner, widow of Michael Schwerner, said: "How can you get convictions when the jury will be composed of relatives and friends of the defendants and no Negro can sit on the jury?"
 Civil War
 In Meridian, Mrs. Fannie Chaney, mother of Robert Chaney, said: "I've been just praying for this. I just wanted to know their names. I'm going to go to the trial of those men who killed my boy and I'm going to sit right there every day and listen to every word."
 In Philadelphia, a waitress said "the arrests are the start of another Civil War."
 Many Philadelphia residents thought the FBI paid a local informer for clues in the case.
 "He's the one who will get it," the waitress said.
 14 inches of snow, with another inch or so expected overnight.
 "We just can't get around to cleaning up the grandstands," said head groundskeeper Pete Marcantonio. "We'll have our hands full trying to get that tarp clean enough to peel off Saturday morning."
 Saturday's forecast indicated occasional snow flurries with 20 to 30 miles per hour winds and diminishing.
 This is a departure from the usual weather luck of owner-coach George Halas of the 11n, was expected to be ready for a contest that three months ago was regarded as a likely Western Division title showdown.
 The Bears, who will be seeking their fourth straight victory, of 46,000 will have to be hardy snow birds at the 2:05 p.m. EST, kickoff.
 A ground crew of 45 men and three dump trucks with hydraulic lifts spent all Friday scooping snow off the tarpaulin.
 Bears with a chance to take second divisional spot by winning seats were blanketed with 12 to

St. Norbert Art Exhibit to Open With Reception

DE PERE — A two-man art exhibition, the first of its kind at St. Norbert College, will open Sunday afternoon with a reception from 2 to 4 o'clock in the Hall of Fine Arts.
 Approximately 30 works will be exhibited by Daniel Dickhut, chairman, and James Cagle, instructor in the art department. The exhibit will include oils, polymers, lithographs, woodcuts and drawings.
 Both Dickhut and Cagle will be at the reception to discuss their works.
 Dickhut works in the Precisionist style or movement which reflects a mechanistic interpretation of visual reality. Cagle presently is developing a style which combines geometric images with a semi-spontaneous paint application.
 Both artists have been represented in statewide exhibitions. Many of their works will be for sale during the exhibit which runs through Dec. 16.
 The St. Norbert College Hall of Fine Arts is open to the public from 9 a.m. to 10 p.m.

Winnebago Will Study Sheriff Office Policy

County Board Committee Will Interview Applicants for Traffic Patrol Dec. 11

OSHKOSH — Two meetings could go to the County Treasury to discuss policy for the sheriff's office and the other to interview applicants for the position of county policeman, were slated Friday by the sheriff and coroner committee of the Winnebago County Board.

Applicants will be interviewed at a meeting set for 7 p.m. Friday, Dec. 11.

The policy discussion meeting may come after the County Board's Dec. 15 meeting and will include as participants Sheriff Richard "Bud" Lowell, Sheriff-Elect Marvin R. Pepler, County Judge James Sitter, County Auditor M. H. Morrisette and the committee.

Six Topics
Supv. Warren Miracle, Town of Vinland, who headed a sub-committee, outlined six topics to be discussed. One of these is whether the county should provide a county-owned car for the sheriff, for the investigator and for the lieutenant who has charge of the Huber prisoners.

Chief Deputy Charles Lowry advised the committee the Huber Law officer could use the car he himself uses for his errands, but that the County may need to purchase two additional squad cars if the sheriff and investigator are to be provided with a car. They would need a car at their disposal at all times and there may not be enough squad cars available which could be used by them.

Both now furnish their own cars and are paid mileage when the use. The fees provided by room for the sheriff in such cases

Cite Menasha Rate Increase For Five Years

MENASHA — School and county taxes and debt retirement service have accounted for almost all of the tax rate increases in the city over the last five years, according to figures compiled by City Clerk-Comptroller Harry Kind.

Since 1961 the gross tax rate has increased from $36 to a proposed $42.16 for 1965. During that period, the tax rate for the school portion of the budget has increased from $13.91 to $18.75, county taxes from $4.67 to $6.62 and debt retirement from $3.72 to $6.98.

During the same period, the city portion of the tax rate decreased from $11.65 to $7.74.

Total Rate
In 1961 and 1962 the total tax rate was $36 per $1,000 assessed valuation. In 1963 the gross rate jumped to $39.79 but the state sales tax credit was started and reduced the net rate to $37.51. The gross increased to $40.07 in 1964 with the net rate being $37.52. The proposed 1965 gross rate is $42.16 with a net rate of $40.

The portion of the total rate going for general city purposes each year was $11.65 in 1961; $9.59 in 1962; $7.70 in 1963; $6.52 in 1964, and a proposed $7.74 for 1965. For those same years the rate for the school portion was $13.91, $14.81, $17.61, $18.67 and $18.75.

County Rate
The county tax rate since 1961 has been $4.67, $4.51, $5.79, $6.29, and $6.62. The debt service rates were $3.72, $4.88, $6.40, $6.59 and $6.98.

Only the state and vocational school taxes have remained stable during this five-year period.

Menasha Elks Plan Memorial Rites for Deceased Members

MENASHA—An annual memorial service for deceased members of Menasha Elks Lodge will be staged at 5 p.m. Sunday in the lodge hall.

The Rev. John De Wane will give the address. Mrs. Marilue Kuehl will be soloist accompanied by Mrs. Robert Clark.

Eleven members of the lodge died in the last year. Families and friends will be present.

In charge of arrangements are R. G. Laemmrich, Robert G. Pagel, S. W. Mc Myler and Milton A. Boehm.

Police Radio Operator could see into the garage.

The question was raised whether the window would have to be replaced by glass blocks as part of the Civil Defense plan for the courthouse to permit operating a control center in the basement.

A frosted security window had been placed in that room when the courthouse was built because it originally served for the sheriff's office where prisoners could be questioned.

Prisoners
Transportation of Huber Prisoners and the charging of such prisoners for medical bills incurred while they were prisoners also was set for discussion at the policy meeting.

Also discussed was having an inventory made of all contents in the County Jail and sheriff's office so that the County has a record of everything it owns and the incoming sheriff will have a list of property and equipment for which he will be responsible. Supv. Miracle noted that the statutes require the entire county board to inspect the jail once a year.

Check Pump
The fourth matter raised by the sub-committee was a check into the gasoline pump operations for the County Police cars.

It was suggested that the switch for operating the pump be moved into the police radio room and out of the garage adjoining the ramp. It also was suggested that the present frost-free window in the police radio be replaced by a trans-entire county board to inspect the jail once a year.

Jury Awards $6,500 for Condemned Land

OSHKOSH — A circuit Court jury decision Thursday awarded Mr. and Mrs. William G. Hughes $6,500 for property they own which was secured for the widening and reconstruction of State 26 southwest of Oshkosh.

The jury found, after three days of testimony, that the Hughes property was worth $26,500 before the state acquired .64 of an acre for the highway right-of-way. The property now is worth $20,000, the jury ruled.

Two jurors dissented as to the value for the property acquired for the highway. The jury award exceeds that which the state had offered in an award of damages for the land needed.

The Hugheses appealed that award of damages to the Circuit Court where it was heard this week before Circuit Judge Arnold J. Cane.

The company's total property tax bill in Wisconsin amounted to $1,068,629. This is the first time in the company's history that its state property taxes have exceeded $1 million.

The money has been paid to the state treasurer in Madison. It will be apportioned to the cities, towns, villages and counties in which the utility owns property. The state will retain 17 per cent of the total amount paid.

County Share Outagamie County's share of the tax also increased this year. The county will receive a check for $91,144 or $9,885 more than last year.

All other municipalities and counties within the company's service area will receive payments according to the amount of property and business conducted in their respective areas.

GREEN BAY — Problems created or aggravated by growing populations and changing conditions were viewed by soil and water conservation supervisors at a meeting here.

They analyzed problems of sanitation and water supply caused by urban sprawl and rural non-farm settlement. They saw a possible threat to future food supply needs by the encroachment of residential and industrial developments on good agricultural land.

Outdoor recreation was stressed as a major social demand offering good financial opportunities for some land owners. A good start has been made with adequate soil and water conservation treatment of Wisconsin's croplands.

Area 4

The meeting was set up as a workshop for Area 4 of the Wisconsin Soil and Water Conservation District. About 90 supervisors and technicians from a dozen counties attended.

Changes that he has seen in the last 10 years were recalled by Vernon Peroutky, Winnebago County Agricultural Agent.

"Industry, housing, highways and recreational developments are taking much of our farm land, and yet with more people we must produce more food," he emphasized.

Food Problem

The food problem of the future will be partially solved, he said, by higher crop yields per acre, better milk production per cow, and improved feed efficiency by livestock.

"But it is imperative that we plan for the wisest possible use of our land," Peroutky declared.

Stanley Perkins, secretary of the Outagamie County SCS district, asserted that every county should have a master land use plan. He said about half of the Outagamie Townships have adopted zoning ordinances, and termed this a good start.

Outagamie, along with other counties in the area, has seen much interest in building farm ponds in recent years. They are valuable from a recreational standpoint. He urged that more attention be paid to stream and river bank improvement by planting grass and shrubbery to prevent erosion and for wildlife cover.

Recreational enterprises in Calumet County were described by Frank Schneider and Oscar Kossman. Schneider has artificial trout lakes, pheasant and duck shooting, and a leased bribe trail on Lake Michigan. Kossman reviewed camping, hunting, nature study and other outdoor assets.

George Massey, retired Fond du Lac County Agricultural Agent and now in the real estate business, cited situations resulting from the expansion of farms and the declining farm population. With many people moving to the country to become commuters, he said sanitation, school, police protection and other service problems are aggravated.

Other panelists contributing to the program were Tomas F. Reddin, Manitowoc, who discussed changing land patterns; Lawrence Johnson, Door County farmer and assemblyman, who stressed the need for long range planning; Leon Morrissey, Winnebago County Highway Commissioner, who talked about road building problems.

Otto Newmann, Gillett, a regional superintendent of schools, and Harold Reinecke, Fond du Lac Agricultural Agent, discussed education, zoning and planning.

"Sixty-one per cent of Wisconsin's cropland still needs soil and water conservation treatment," Hembre asserted.

"Sixty-one per cent of Wisconsin's cropland still needs soil and water conservation treatment," Hembre asserted.

The meeting was set up as a workshop for Area 4 of the Wisconsin Soil and Water Conservation District. About 90 supervisors and technicians from a dozen counties attended.

Changes that he has seen in the last 10 years were recalled by Vernon Peroutky, Winnebago County Agricultural Agent.

"Industry, housing, highways and recreational developments are taking much of our farm land, and yet with more people we must produce more food," he emphasized.

Appleton's Construction Nears $15 Million for 1964

November Another Pacesetter As New Building Projects Exceed the $1 Million Mark

BY WILLIAM C. CAREY Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Appleton's building boom continued at a healthy clip during November sending new construction for the year past the $14.6 million mark. The million dollar mark was eclipsed for the sixth time this year in November when permits for $1,084,586 worth of new buildings were issued locally.

Building Inspector Charles Magnette said today that new construction in Appleton since Jan. 1 has totaled $14,687,104, far ahead of 1963.

Last year an all-time building record was set with construction totaling $12,013,991. Between now and Dec. 31 a new mark will be set everytime the building inspector issues a permit.

Magnette said home-builders accounted for considerable activity the past month with permits being issued for 31 new residences with an estimated value of $600,000.

It is not unusual for November to be a good month for starting new houses because contractors work on them over the winter months.

Those close to Appleton's construction picture had predicted at mid-year that building in 1964 would exceed the $15 million figure. Permits issued the next four weeks will tell the story.

The new St. Thomas More Catholic congregation accounted for major projects last month, taking out permits for a $313,000 school-church building and a $76,900 convent.

No new apartment buildings were started here last month, but two eight-unit structures are scheduled to go up later in December, the permits having been issued.

The monthly building summary:

January	$ 584,813
February	268,999
March	669,935
April	1,068,115
May	1,333,549
June	3,473,158
July	2,861,873
August	806,245
September	811,685
October	1,632,146
November	1,084,586

Knowles Supports Buying Indian Land

Recreation Use Would Help Menominee Money Problems

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — State acquisition of the expansive timber lands of the Menominee people in Menominee County for use as a public recreational attraction may be supported by the new Republican state administration as a means of relieving the financial problems of the beleaguered Indians there.

Gov.-Elect Warren P. Knowles said he sees such action as one of the few practicable measures within the reach of the state for the assistance of the Indians who now compose an independent county as a result of the termination of their federal tribal status several years ago.

The subject came up when Knowles listened to the budget presentation of the conservation department and asked State Forester John Beale whether there is a plan for such state purchase.

Not Developed

Beale said there is, under the sponsorship of Conservation Commissioner Jack Schumacher of Shawano, but that it is not yet fully developed and that the commission as a whole has not yet acted on it.

Later the new governor told a reporter he is inclined to support such purchase, and has already been approached by representatives of the Menominee community about the deficits in last month's election and they are encountering in trying to support a local government there.

"It may be the only answer," he said.

Knowles was also told there is some assurance for the early start of federal work relief program in what he called "our own Appalachia," through the new federal anti-poverty program.

Beale said an application for a Menominee County work relief project has been filed in Washington by the conservation department and a decision on its eligibility should be available by January.

But he said no state has yet had an allocation of funds for a resident conservation work camp such as has also been proposed for Menominee County, although some camps have been approved for establishment within federal forests in the county.

Beale, who is a member of the board of trustees of Menominee Enterprises Inc., told Knowles the next legislature will be asked by the corporation to extend for five years after 1966 the law which makes bonds of the corporation held by Menominee non-negotiable.

Jury Finds Kaukauna Man Guilty of Theft

Alvin Driessen on 2-Year Probation; Must Pay Farmers

WAUPACA — Alvin Driessen, route 1, Kaukauna, was found guilty of theft by a jury Friday in Waupaca County Court. He was sentenced to 18 months in the state prison in Waupun but sentence was stayed and he was placed on probation for two years.

Terms of the probation are that Driessen pay all court costs and pay any farmers he owes for hay purchases.

The former dealer, Driessen was charged with purchasing 12 tons of hay from LeRoy Jossie, route 2, Manawa, and not paying for the hay until civil action was taken.

Driessen contended in court that the hay he purchased from Jossie was moldy and he was unable to sell it to a northern Illinois cattle firm.

At the two-day trial heard by a jury of seven men and five women, several witnesses appeared on behalf of Driessen and testified that they had satisfactory hay dealings with him. Dist. Atty. Gerald K. Anderson produced several other farmers who testified they also had sold hay to Driessen and had experienced difficulty in receiving payment for weight slips.

The jury deliberated for three hours before delivering the guilty verdict.
